CAA/CRNA “White Star”

January “White Star” Beth Schorr-Ratzlaff

“For all her hard work putting together everything to celebrate CRNA week appropriately.”

December “White Star” Brian Heighington

“For his help during a stroke alert. The IR room was not the normal room and there was a lot needed to be done to stabilize this pt (including an RSI in the middle of the procedure). It was a pleasure working with one of my peers with a complete "can do" attitude and I was very grateful for his help.”
November “White Star” Cathie Cook

“For all of her work with Angel Tree. Cathie has worked with the Salvation Army for many years to help fulfill Christmas lists for children. She does a great job and never is recognized for her efforts. Thank you Cathie!”

NEW peer support program for physician providers on campus.

The PTP Network is a volunteer-based, peer support program that seeks to match campus providers who have experienced an adverse clinical event with a peer supporter. In doing so, we hope to create a confidential, non-punitive space to discuss the experience. An adverse clinical event is a health care-related event that causes distress to a patient, their family, or their health care provider.

Any provider dealing with the emotional or life impact of an adverse clinical event can self-refer or be referred to the program at any time. Please don’t surprise a colleague–check with them before making a referral.

To refer a provider with their permission, or to self-refer, please send an email to our address: Peersupport@ucdenver.edu. Our email inbox is covered Monday-Friday from 8am to 5pm. After receiving a referral email, one of the program dispatchers should reach out to the referred provider within one business day.
